

I believe that the FCC needs to encourage independent media to ensure broad discussion of national and global events. The proposed regulatory changes will allow greater concentration of media control into the corporate broadcast industry. Even today, U.S., British and Canadian media have greatly different viewpoints on the same world events, and the proposed regulations will make it more difficult to obtain opinions from all sides of an issue. I ask you to propose legislation that will stimulate the independent media and allow all voices to be heard.
